Handgun 201 - Intermediate Training

This class is designed to introduce the experienced gun handler to a more realistic class of defensive gun handling. The course emphasis will be on improving weapon safety and management, while improving the students ability to make multiple shots on single and multiple targets at unknown distances.

The practical application aspect of the class will incorporate all positions and techniques that are covered in the class. If you have a working knowledge and good basic safety habits this is a class designed to improve your handgun management skills and bring your confidence level up to where you will be comfortable in carrying your weapon with you at all times.

This is a 14 hour class that is held at our training facility in Crawford County, Pennsylvania. The average breakdown of this course is approximately 90% weapons manipulation & range time and 10% classroom.
